The graphics in the cutscenes and gameplay didn't render correctly, and I can't play the game like that.. I remember buying this. I feel horrible.. Got boring fast for me. The second time I played survival I got to night 22 before I got heart breakingly bored and asked for a refund. If you understand how to shoot and do the operator left/right motion, then this game is impossibly easy.. Atlas is one of my favorite publishers and developers. Hope they also put Persona on PC, hell maybe some Shin Megami Tensei, but this game is great as well. As a port, I was not disappointed. As a game on its own, it's really good if you enjoy puzzle games because that is the core mechanic. The story is engaging enough as well. However, it shows its age in its limited choices that you can make even though there are still multiple endings. Regardless, I do recommend you get this game because it is fun and enthralling.. I got this pack for a buck and even then just for money I'd made selling cards so didn't expect a lot. The cookie guy is a lot more lame than I expected. The elf is really creepy. The deer and bear are solid. The penguin is awesome! It behaves really well when your eyebrows move even and shows off eye movement well. My little niece is going to love when I Skype with her using it!. this game is great if your feeling lonely and wanting no one to talk to you first map: the ♥♥♥♥ are these things attacking me and whats with this music final map: the ♥♥♥♥ are these things still attacking me! and this music is perfect for my lonely mood!

. For now, I'm not recommending "Shadows: Price for Our Sins Bonus Edition." There's a notice on the game's Library page dated from August 24th letting people know about problems with Windows 10, video drivers, and cutscenes. I'm trying to run it under Windows 10 with the latest Nvidia drivers and after the first couple of cutscenes, ended up with the problem (just a blank, black screen during the cutscene). There doesn't seem to be a fix for this yet. Along with that, in the two cutscenes I was able to see, the voice volume was inaudible. I think the cutscene volume might be tied to the music volume slider in the options (since I had that turned off), but can't really check it any more. Also, on a game-related note, just after the start, I was totally stuck. It turns out I had to try to drive away from the area first. Of course, I'd never have thought of that, since I'm playing a game and actually want to BE there and figure out what's going on.

I'll update this when I try to run it again.

Wow, so I binge played all 3. What an incredible HOG, probably hands down the best series I have played for the genre. The story is compelling, the characters are interesting, and the puzzles are effing hard lol. I spent an hour on one because I was doing the achievement where you can't use hints... I was eating dinner, and cursing for that one lol. This is not my typical genre, I like RPG, Action Adventure, and MMO; however, this plays like a mix between an adventure and a HOG. This is certainly worth it full price, but if you can get it on sale, you would be crazy not to!! Shoulda called it JUMP 'N SHOOT MAN. A Megaman tribute or ripoff or something, A.R.E.S. is a "walk to the right and shoot" platformer with a tacked on crafting system. It lacks a lot of polish, and the controls seem awkward, but if you're into Megaman style games it might be worth a look.

Watch a few gameplay videos, and if it seems interesting, grab it on sale.. Zero instructions, minimalist graphics and sound, not recommended as is.. Detailed Fight Mechanics? :v

rly? :v :v. Stealth around an island as a soul.

You can't move but you can grow a tree into a totem.

The gameplay is pretty fun, it has good sound and good direction.

The procedurally generated islands all feel very samey.

Probably a little to expensive.

https://youtu.be/V8xMN\_BIyP5E. I never really do these but I feel that I need to. This game is just bad, its really hard to understand, and I could'nt find a way to select units without having to go to them, this coupled with the fact that you can't pause the game to take stock and manage things properly just makes this game hard and confusing. This game has a good concept, but the execution is just poor.. OMG - will you work to make this game more boring please? I mean, it's tied for tick tack toe right now and I'd like to say I've played the absolute most boring freaking game in the world, and I've played most of them...
